

1. Systems Engineering
2. Systems Engineering and Traditional Engineering Disciplines
3. Origins of Systems Engineering
4. Advancing Technology: Risks
5. Competition: Trade-offs
6. Specialization: Interfaces
7. Examples of Systems Requiring Systems Engineering
8. Successful Systems
9. The “Best” System
10. A Balanced System
11. Perspectives of Systems Engineering
12. Systems Domains
13. Systems Engineering Fields
14. Systems Engineering Approaches
15. Systems Engineering Activities and Products
16. System building blocks and interfaces.
17. Hierarchy of Complex Systems
18. Model of a Complex System
19. Definition of System Levels
20. Domains of the Systems Engineer and Design Specialist
21. System Building Blocks
22. System Functional Elements
23. Physical Building Blocks: Components
24. Common Building Blocks
25. Applications of System Building Blocks
26. The system environment. System boundaries.
27. System Boundaries: The Context Diagram
28. Types of Environmental Interactions
29. External and Internal Interfaces
30. Interface Elements
31. Systems Engineering Through the System Life Cycle
32. System Life Cycle
33. Development of a Systems Engineering Life Cycle Model
34. DoD (Department of Defense) Acquisition Management Model
35. International ISO / IEC 15288 Model. Systems Engineering Life Cycle Model
36. Systems Engineering Life Cycle Stages
37. Concept development phases of a system life cycle
38. The principal objectives of the engineering development stage
39. Needs Analysis Phase
40. Systems Engineering Method
40. Managing System Development and Risks. The Venn Diagram
41. ISO - 15288 Systems engineering process
42. Spiral Life Cycle Model
43. Systems Engineering Approach to Testing
44. The Systems Engineering Method
45. System Requirements and Specifications
46. Make a first plan of the transport task by the north-west angle method. Determine the value of the goal function for this plan. Baseline data for the solution are given below: Table 1 shows the required amount of construction materials for 1-5 branches of the company. Table 2 shows the transportation costs for the transportation of a unit construction materials from storage A to the branches of firm B.

Table 1

Branch 1	40
Branch 2	50
Branch 3	30
Branch 4	70
Branch 5	50
Storage 1	90
Storage 2	90
Storage 3	60

Table 2

	B1	B2	B3	B4	B5
A1	6	8	3	4	5
A2	4	3	4	6	2
A3	2	1	5	8	9

47. Make a first plan of the transport task by the north-west angle method. Determine the value of the goal function for this plan. Baseline data for the solution are given below: Table 1 shows the required amount of construction materials for 1-5 branches of the company. Table 2 shows the transportation costs for the transportation of a unit construction materials from storage A to the branches of firm B.

Table 1

Branch 1	60
Branch 2	50
Branch 3	40
Branch 4	80
Branch 5	70
Storage 1	120
Storage 2	100
Storage 3	80

Table 2

	B1	B2	B3	B4	B5
A1	6	8	3	4	5
A2	4	3	4	6	2
A3	2	1	5	8	9

48. Make a first plan of the transport task by the north-west angle method. Determine the value of the goal function for this plan. Baseline data for the solution are given below: Table 1 shows the required amount of construction materials for 1-5 branches of the company. Table 2 shows the transportation costs for the transportation of a unit construction materials from storage A to the branches of firm B.

Table 1

Branch 1	90
Branch 2	70
Branch 3	50
Branch 4	40
Branch 5	50
Storage 1	90
Storage 2	100
Storage 3	110

Table 2

	B1	B2	B3	B4	B5
--	----	----	----	----	----

A1	6	8	3	4	5
A2	4	3	4	6	2
A3	2	1	5	8	9

49. Make a first plan of the transport task by the north-west angle method. Determine the value of the goal function for this plan. Baseline data for the solution are given below: Table 1 shows the required amount of construction materials for 1-5 branches of the company. Table 2 shows the transportation costs for the transportation of a unit construction materials from storage A to the branches of firm B.

Table 1

Branch 1	40
Branch 2	50
Branch 3	30
Branch 4	40
Branch 5	60
Storage 1	90
Storage 2	70
Storage 3	60

Table 2

	B1	B2	B3	B4	B5
A1	6	8	3	4	5
A2	4	3	4	6	2
A3	2	1	5	8	9

50. Make a first plan of the transport task by the north-west angle method. Determine the value of the goal function for this plan. Baseline data for the solution are given below: Table 1 shows the required amount of construction materials for 1-5 branches of the company. Table 2 shows the transportation costs for the transportation of a unit construction materials from storage A to the branches of firm B.

Table 1

Branch 1	60
Branch 2	50
Branch 3	40
Branch 4	70
Branch 5	80
Storage 1	100
Storage 2	100
Storage 3	100

Table 2

	B1	B2	B3	B4	B5
A1	6	8	3	4	5
A2	4	3	4	6	2
A3	2	1	5	8	9

51. Make a first plan of the transport task by the north-west angle method. Determine the value of the goal function for this plan. Baseline data for the solution are given below: Table 1 shows the required amount of construction materials for 1-5 branches of the company. Table 2 shows the transportation costs for the transportation of a unit construction materials from storage A to the branches of firm B.

Table 1

Branch 1	90
Branch 2	80
Branch 3	70
Branch 4	40
Branch 5	60
Storage 1	100
Storage 2	120
Storage 3	120

Table 2

	B1	B2	B3	B4	B5
A1	6	8	3	4	5
A2	4	3	4	6	2
A3	2	1	5	8	9

52. Make a first plan of the transport task by the north-west angle method. Determine the value of the goal function for this plan. Baseline data for the solution are given below: Table 1 shows the required amount of construction materials for 1-5 branches of the company. Table 2 shows the transportation costs for the transportation of a unit construction materials from storage A to the branches of firm B.

Table 1

Branch 1	40
Branch 2	30
Branch 3	20
Branch 4	50
Branch 5	70
Storage 1	80
Storage 2	70
Storage 3	60

Table 2

	B1	B2	B3	B4	B5
A1	6	8	3	4	5
A2	4	3	4	6	2
A3	2	1	5	8	9

53. Make a first plan of the transport task by the north-west angle method. Determine the value of the goal function for this plan. Baseline data for the solution are given below: Table 1 shows the required amount of construction materials for 1-5 branches of the company. Table 2 shows the transportation costs for the transportation of a unit construction materials from storage A to the branches of firm B.

Table 1

Branch 1	70
Branch 2	90
Branch 3	80
Branch 4	50
Branch 5	60
Storage 1	90
Storage 2	120
Storage 3	140

Table 2

	B1	B2	B3	B4	B5
A1	6	8	3	4	5

A2	4	3	4	6	2
A3	2	1	5	8	9

54. Make a first plan of the transport task by the north-west angle method. Determine the value of the goal function for this plan. Baseline data for the solution are given below: Table 1 shows the required amount of construction materials for 1-5 branches of the company. Table 2 shows the transportation costs for the transportation of a unit construction materials from storage A to the branches of firm B.

Table 1

Branch 1	70
Branch 2	90
Branch 3	80
Branch 4	50
Branch 5	60
Storage 1	90
Storage 2	120
Storage 3	140

Table 2

	B1	B2	B3	B4	B5
A1	6	8	3	4	5
A2	4	3	4	6	2
A3	2	1	5	8	9

55. Make a first plan of the transport task by the north-west angle method. Determine the value of the goal function for this plan. Baseline data for the solution are given below: Table 1 shows the required amount of construction materials for 1-5 branches of the company. Table 2 shows the transportation costs for the transportation of a unit construction materials from storage A to the branches of firm B.

Table 1

Branch 1	50
Branch 2	40
Branch 3	60
Branch 4	70
Branch 5	40
Storage 1	90
Storage 2	80
Storage 3	90

Table 2

	B1	B2	B3	B4	B5
A1	6	8	3	4	5
A2	4	3	4	6	2
A3	2	1	5	8	9

56. Make a first plan of the transport task by the north-west angle method. Determine the value of the goal function for this plan. Baseline data for the solution are given below: Table 1 shows the required amount of construction materials for 1-5 branches of the company. Table 2 shows the transportation costs for the transportation of a unit construction materials from storage A to the branches of firm B.

Table 1

Branch 1	90
----------	----

Branch 2	120
Branch 3	60
Branch 4	80
Branch 5	50
Storage 1	110
Storage 2	200
Storage 3	90

Table 2

	B1	B2	B3	B4	B5
A1	5	7	4	2	5
A2	4	3	3	6	1
A3	1	1	2	4	3

57. Make a first plan of the transport task by the north-west angle method. Determine the value of the goal function for this plan. Baseline data for the solution are given below: Table 1 shows the required amount of construction materials for 1-5 branches of the company. Table 2 shows the transportation costs for the transportation of a unit construction materials from storage A to the branches of firm B.

Table 1

Branch 1	40
Branch 2	15
Branch 3	50
Branch 4	40
Branch 5	25
Storage 1	45
Storage 2	60
Storage 3	65

Table 2

	B1	B2	B3	B4	B5
A1	5	7	4	2	5
A2	4	3	3	6	1
A3	1	1	2	4	3

58. Make a first plan of the transport task by the north-west angle method. Determine the value of the goal function for this plan. Baseline data for the solution are given below: Table 1 shows the required amount of construction materials for 1-5 branches of the company. Table 2 shows the transportation costs for the transportation of a unit construction materials from storage A to the branches of firm B.

Table 1

Branch 1	50
Branch 2	10
Branch 3	40
Branch 4	40
Branch 5	20
Storage 1	60
Storage 2	55
Storage 3	45

Table 2

	B1	B2	B3	B4	B5
A1	5	7	4	2	5

A2	4	3	3	6	1
A3	1	1	2	4	3

59. Make a first plan of the transport task by the north-west angle method. Determine the value of the goal function for this plan. Baseline data for the solution are given below: Table 1 shows the required amount of construction materials for 1-5 branches of the company. Table 2 shows the transportation costs for the transportation of a unit construction materials from storage A to the branches of firm B.

Table 1

Branch 1	30
Branch 2	30
Branch 3	45
Branch 4	60
Branch 5	25
Storage 1	45
Storage 2	65
Storage 3	80

Table 2

	B1	B2	B3	B4	B5
A1	5	7	4	2	5
A2	4	3	3	6	1
A3	1	1	2	4	3

60. Make a first plan of the transport task by the north-west angle method. Determine the value of the goal function for this plan. Baseline data for the solution are given below: Table 1 shows the required amount of construction materials for 1-5 branches of the company. Table 2 shows the transportation costs for the transportation of a unit construction materials from storage A to the branches of firm B.

Table 1

Branch 1	40
Branch 2	10
Branch 3	40
Branch 4	60
Branch 5	20
Storage 1	40
Storage 2	60
Storage 3	70

Table 2

	B1	B2	B3	B4	B5
A1	5	7	4	2	5
A2	4	3	3	6	1
A3	1	1	2	4	3

61. Check the optimality of the transportation plan presented above. Using the potential method, build a potential system. Check the optimality of full and empty cells. Set which variable to move in the new plan.